You will see students greeting teachers and each other with friendly handshakes and direct eye contact. Teachers stand at their doors waiting to greet each student individually. In each classroom, you will find Social Contracts that are an agreed upon set of student-generated expectations for how we will treat each other, how we will treat our leaders and how we will handle/resolve conflict. This culture is a product of The Flippen Model that the entire school has adopted. At FMS, relationships are built and valued. So when you come in to the building, be ready to extend a hand out as you will be greeted with a handshake and a kind hello. Welcome to Fountain Middle School!
