Changes to the Nurse Assessor Program

The Colorado Department of Health Care Policy & Financing is ending the Nurse Assessor Program for all services, including Health Maintenance Activities (HMA), Private Duty Nursing (PDN), and Long-Term Home Health (LTHH).

What Does This Mean for Individuals and Families?

All Nurse Assessor appointments and results continued through December 24, 2025. Starting December 22, 2025, your case manager—not a nurse assessor—will handle all new assessments using the Direct Care Services Calculator (DCSC) and will approve HMA hours.

- There are yearly limits on how many hours you can get for certain services
- If you need more hours than the usual limit, your case manager can ask for an exception. To do this, your case manager must explain why you need extra help and provide details about your medical or disability needs. Sometimes, a supervisor or the state will review the request to make the extra hours are necessary. Not every request is approved, but your case manager will work with you to make sure your needs are clearly explained
- For Private Duty Nursing and Long-Term Home Health, your home health agency will continue to help you as usual.

No changes are needed on your part

For Providers (Home Health Agencies)

- Continue submitting all Private Duty Nursing and Long-Term Home Health prior authorization requests (PARs) directly to Acentra, with required clinical documentation.
- Keep providing care as ordered by physicians to avoid service gaps.
- Use your internal clinical tools to determine care levels for PDN or LTHH (these do not need to be submitted with PARs unless told otherwise).

Stakeholder Feedback Needed: Community First Choice and Community Connector Rule

Since OCL originally posted the Community First Choice and Community Connector Rule Revision Draft, they have further revised the draft and are seeking stakeholder feedback. Impacts of the nurse assessor rollback are included in the draft.

HCPF Budget Cuts

The Department of Health Care Policy and Financing (HCPF) is implementing several Sustainability Actions to help keep Colorado's Medicaid long-term services and supports (LTSS) system stable and affordable in the future. These changes are part of the state's broader effort to manage rising costs while continuing to provide essential services to members. The FAQ provides answers to questions submitted by stakeholders through the Stakeholder Comment Form. We appreciate the public's engagement and submission of questions. HCPF will continue to monitor questions submitted through the form and update this FAQ. For more information about the LTSS Sustainability Actions, please visit the Medicaid Sustainability and Colorado's LTSS System webpage.

Why were these reductions being proposed?

- There are several reasons why these actions are being proposed, including:
 - State Budget: Colorado must balance its budget each year and the amount of revenue the state may retain is limited by TABOR. That caps revenue growth to 3–4%. Medicaid costs, particularly Long-Term Services and Supports (LTSS), have grown faster than the revenue the state is allowed to keep (on average 8.8% growth in Medicaid).
 - Federal Budget: H.R.1 resulted in an unexpected $1 billion state budget shortfall immediately after the FY 2025-26 budget went into effect, forcing the state to identify immediate cost savings. The impact of H.R.1 is not just this year, as many other parts of the bill will not become effective for several years.
 - Share of Budget: Long-Term Services and Supports (LTSS) are a key cost driver within Medicaid. People who need LTSS make up 5.8% of people who use Medicaid, and the cost for these very important services that help people live in the community of their choice total 45% of all Medicaid funding.
 - Rising Costs: Overall, LTSS costs rose by 44% between FY 2020-21 and FY 2023-24. This happened because rates increased, more people used services, and more people enrolled.

Update on Movement Therapy and Music Therapy Rates

After taking a closer look at the Office of Community Living's (OCL) initial proposal to reduce reimbursement rates, HCPF carefully reconsidered this change based on new information provided by providers, stakeholders, and professional organizations. This feedback highlighted the significant education, training, and credentialing required to become a qualified Movement Therapy professional—particularly for Music Therapists.

As reflected in Supplemental/Budget Amendment-07, HCPF is requesting the withdrawal of the proposed rate reduction for Movement Therapy, including Music Therapy. At this time, the OCL does not believe a rate reduction is justified or appropriate given the professional standards and service needs associated with these therapies.
